U. S. 426.

Baltimore Sesqui-Centennial Medal, Oroide, not pierced. After three copies were struck at the U. S. Mint, Philadelphia, it was discovered that "Anniversary" was spelt with one n, thus, Aniversary. The die was destroyed, a new one made, and 22,000 copies struck by authority of Mayor Latrobe and the committee. The three copies were sent to the committee as a specimen. Colonel Scharf discovered the mistake at a glance. Of the three specimens Mayor Latrobe has one, and Colonel Scharf, I think, the other. I need not say that this is an excessively rare medal. A mistake also occurs in "150," instead of "150th Anniversary."
